

MEET THE GLOBAL TEAM

Daniel A. Huard – CEO of Global GreenTag Americas

Daniel A. Huard is one of the most accomplished, sustainability specialists, practitioners and advocates in the global green building industries. He is a LEED® Fellow, as well as a member of the LEED Steering Committee, a WELL AP™ and member of the WELL Faculty at the International WELL™ Building Institute who has contributed to numerous high profile US, China and other international High-Performance Building, Sustainable, Restorative and Resilient Development projects.

Daniel's work since becoming CEO of Global GreenTag Americas LLC (Canada, North and Latin America) in 2018 has included creating significant milestones of recognition for the Global GreenTag Product Standard and Global GreenTag's certification and declaration services within the US green building industries and also globally. Most notably, in 2020, Daniel helped to establish the world's leading building certification and rating system LEED® Versions 4.0 and 4.1 to recognize formally Global GreenTag's groundbreaking Product Health Declaration™ (the Global GreenTag PHD™) in the USA and in over 167 countries worldwide.

Passionate about evolving healthier, more efficient and ecologically conscious places, Daniel started his career as an Engineer with General Motors assuring Environmental and Quality Compliance Reporting; a dedication that he has pursued with every organization that has agreed to develop environmental leadership since.

Daniel is a sought after speaker, green building and resiliency authority with degrees in Engineering, Architecture and Planning. He holds over a dozen professional designations in addition to being a LEED® Fellow, IWBI™ WELL Faculty, Chair of a USGBC Technical Advisory Group and Board of Directors Vice Chair for the National Fenestration Rating Council also contributing to additional professional organizations.
