Brett Hazlett Bio:

Specialised in certification and verification strategies, Brett Hazlett has worked in the green building space for over a decade as a champion for sustainable product manufacturers. He has helped progressive manufacturers around the world to plan and implement third party assessment pathways for their sustainable product lines. Particularly for green building products that comply with building rating tools and programs, focused upon reducing environmental footprint and creating safer and healthier environments for people to live and work in, like Green Star®, the WELL Building Standard™ and LEED®.

Brett has always had a passion for the natural world. He was recently appointed CEO of Global GreenTag Australia & New Zealand and was with GreenTag when the Type 1 ecolabel and product certification standard was first launched in 2011. Since 2008, he has also managed Verified Product assessment accounts for Ecospecifier Global, working with manufacturers throughout Australasia, Asia and UAE.

Global GreenTag International bio:

Global GreenTag International simplifies the selection of sustainable products for the green building, interiors and infrastructure sectors using Global GreenTag Cert™ one of the most scientifically advanced certification systems in the world, assessing and ranking products through leading LCA based product ecolabelling, rating, EPD and Product Health Declaration (PhD) programs.

Global GreenTagCert™ in Australia is the only ACCC approved National Certification Mark in the green product sector; also recognised by Green Star®, WELL™ Building Standard, Vietnam's LOTUS® tool, the 'IS' rating tool, MyHIJAU labelling program, Singapore's Green Mark International and compliant with relevant USGBC LEED v4 Materials credits and BREEAM International EPD credits.
